From the Governor

Montana produces a bounty of agricultural commodities that are processed into some of the finest value-added products in the world. Montana entrepreneurs are proud to create and grow these products here in our great state. By listing themselves in this biennial Montana Food & Beverage Directory, they make their high quality products available for purchase in local, state, national and international markets.

The producers and processors listed in this directory vary in size, product and market reach. Each company provides a unique addition to the high quality foods and beverages present in Montana. I hope this directory proves to be an integral resource in connecting Montana agribusiness to potential buyers and consumers around the state, the nation, and the world.

Sincerely,

JUDY MARTZ
Governor

From the Director

Agriculture is the foundation of Montana's economy, and the Montana Department of Agriculture works diligently to protect and enhance that industry and the people who depend on it. One important area of growth in this industry is the processing of agricultural commodities into finished products and marketing them throughout the world.

Food processing is a valuable aspect of enhancing Montana's economy and competitive edge in the value-added agricultural industry of today. The Montana Department of Agriculture has developed the Montana Food & Beverage Directory to provide a guide to high quality food and beverage products produced within Montana. The Montana Food & Beverage Directory also serves as a vital tool to identify companies, the products they sell and the markets they serve or are interested in serving.

We thank you for your interest in Montana's processed foods. We hope this directory will assist you in contacting suppliers of quality Montana products.

Sincerely,

Ralph
